

There are four long lamp body brackets, one is a whole, and the other three are divided into two segments

The light body divided into 2 segments has corresponding digital labels on it

After the four light bodies are installed together with the top plate, a T-shaped support frame is installed at the bottom

