

1. Open the outer box and place all the accessories on a clean surface.
2. Find the lamp body and make sure it is assembled correctly according to the diagram, with the wires inside the junction box not exposed.
3. Assemble the ceiling cap according to the diagram, and make sure the center spindle is tightened.
4. Install the middle pole, side suspension arm, and lamp shade according to the diagram, and then install the light source.

